The Principal Clerk announces that the first order of business is the election of a Speaker and declares that nominations are in order.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Chair recognizes Representative Marty Kimsey who places in nomination the name of Representative Johnathan Rhyne as the Republican Nominee for the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

“Madam Chair, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, Distinguished Guests:

“Just as the small branches and creeks that rise from the Appalachian Mountains, that I call home, build together to form some of the great rivers of America, so too does the evidence that our forefathers were wiser than today’s crop of politicians and welfare state boosters.

“The philosophy of as little government as necessary – propounded by our forefathers – was neither arbitrary nor ideological in its origins; it was based on common sense observations of human history.

“Unfortunately, government – any government – is always the principal threat to liberty. As historian, Paul Johnson, so eloquently notes, ‘as government has grown in this century, it’s capacity to do evil has grown’.

“As how my nominee for speaker hails from Lincoln County, I think it quite appropriate that the founder of our party, Abraham Lincoln, best described the proper role of government when he wrote, 'The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people what ever they need to have done, but cannot do, at all, or cannot so well do for themselves — in their separate and individual capacities'.

"In all that the people can do as well for themselves, government ought not to interfere.

"President Lincoln went on to state what those basic necessities for government were.

"However, we have now gone far beyond those basic necessities of government, yet the necessities themselves are not what they should be.

"Many, however, still think that the social engineers will solve problems that have plagued mankind for centuries. Their beliefs are unshaken, even in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary.

"How can a system solve problems — insulated as it is by a centralized state government that makes the system itself immune from the consequences of its own inefficiencies. Therefore, being denied the learning experiences that reality imposes on those in the private sector.

"Yet many of you still insist that we must raise taxes. Do you know what you are really telling the people of North Carolina???? What you are really telling them is this — you are telling the hard working citizens of North Carolina that the legislature hasn't overspent — You are just undertaxed!!

"Just recently, MONEY Magazine revealed that of all fifty states, North Carolina is one of the 'Top ten tax hells'. Having the highest per capita taxes in the entire southeast!!

"Just after World War II, the average American family of 4 paid no income taxes at all; today, the same family would pay over $6,000 in income taxes alone.

"Does this mean we can't do what really needs to be done?

"NO!!

"Granted, the litany of bad news is enough to put even Little Orphan Annie in the deep blue dumps. Housing is down, auto sales are slumping, the war, and the state budget is facing a huge shortfall. We all know about the educational crisis. We know that there are some parts of our state, and all too many of our people, left out and left behind, suffering from the tragedy of poverty that stretches over generations, and a sense of hopelessness only perpetuated by the bureaucratic welfare state.

"With right direction, the right course, all these crises are nothing more than opportunities for greatness. We should represent the force for a world made better by a deeper understanding of the nobility of the human spirit, which will dream, no matter what.

"I read recently that to many, empowerment means giving power to government to control our lives. But, empowerment really means not control over others, BUT, freedom to control one's own affairs. The poor don't want paternalism – they want opportunities. They don't want the servitude of welfare, they want to get jobs and private property. They don't want dependency, they want a new declaration of independence!

“Today, in North Carolina, an Aid to Families With Dependent Children application is 63 pages long and takes over 2 1/2 hours for a social worker to complete. Not only that, but, then additional applications have to be filed for food stamps — and every other program. Such foolishness serves neither the social worker nor the needy, only the bureaucracy.

“80 cents of every dollar that is spent on programs to help those that can't help themselves is spent on the administration of the programs themselves.

“Eighty percent!!!

“This is not only obscene, but also immoral!!

“North Carolinians expect courage and leadership from their elected representatives. Therefore, we should have the courage to say, NO, you don't have some inherent right to a state job or state money when the job or the money spent is no longer serving the best interests of North Carolina. Yet, too, the courage to truly help those left out and left behind. This is a moral imperative for our state. It's the right thing to do, the right time to do it and we're the right people to help lead it. By reforming programs so that they give people a hand, instead of keeping them subservient to a handout. We must empower people to help themselves instead of raising taxes and adding regulations that only stand as a stumbling block, especially to those who most need opportunity..

“There are areas in the inner cities and some rural counties where we should not raise taxes but actually cut taxes by creating enterprise zones to help create jobs, opportunity and prosperity. When opportunity meets honest hard work economic levels are not static. Today's employees are tomorrow's employers, thereby creating more jobs for more employees, and allowing all to acquire private property, wealth and knowledge.

“Some times I think North Carolinians would be better off if they would learn to think a little more narrowly. Instead of nodding at 'high-falutin' reasons for the budget shortfall and 'threats to education', they should ask bluntly: 'Just what's in it for us? How much will we have to pay? Will education of our children improve?'

“If money alone would fix education, why hasn't it done so? We already spend far more, in some cases, twice as much per pupil than does Japan and Western Europe.

“Yet, where do you think children receive a better education?

“Of the 112,000 plus jobs in education in North Carolina, nearly half are not even class room related.

"I read something recently that is a sad, sad, testament to our system. In 1935, in the midst of the Great Depression, when resources were slim indeed, the average 8th grader knew more about history, world geography, and self government than does the High School graduate of today.

"How can we expect our students to know what's going on in Iraq if they can't find it on a world map.

"Isn't it time that we, at least, consider choice in our schools thereby allowing parents of all economic levels the opportunity to control and enhance their children's education. Some of these policies are beginning to be embraced elsewhere by diverse segments of the political spectrum, including Wisconsin state representative, Polly Williams, and Detroit council member, Reverend Keith Butler.

"The very least we must do is return control of local schools to local communities. With a 'goals oriented' system instead of a task oriented system, bureaucracy and administration would be cut to a bare minimum. Money sent to the local systems without strings attached, thus allowing for more education dollars to actually reach the classrooms. Local schools, run by local teachers, local principals, local school boards and, yes, most of all local parents. Talk about more parental involvement. You'll see it when parents have a say in the education of their children, you'll see PTA meetings and school board meetings that really mean something.

"We finally must realize that our job as legislators in America is not to evenly divide the pie but rather to help bake a bigger pie for all.

"As I have said, North Carolinians expect courage from their elected officials and there are those among us whom I believe have the courage to lead in these times of crisis and opportunity.

"My nominee for speaker is one of those. He understands that now is not the time to raise taxes on the already over taxed North Carolinian.

"He understands the lessons of the past and the principals of self government of our founding fathers. He understands that now is the time to fix our educational system and make it work for all our children who wish to learn.

"He understands that we must dedicate ourselves to the rebirth of human potential, freedom and equality of opportunity for all.

"That is why I proudly place in nomination for Speaker of the House, Johnathan L. Rhyne, Jr.

"Thank you."

The Chair is notified that no seconds are requested.

The Chair recognizes Representative Joe Hackney who places the name of Representative Daniel Blue, Jr. as the Democratic Nominee for the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

"Madam Principal Clerk, Members of the 1991 North Carolina House of Representatives, Families, Guests, Justice Frye, Judge Eagles, Judge Parker, Fellow North Carolinians:

"These will not be partisan political remarks.

"The beginning of each session of the General Assembly is the occasion for renewed optimism. It is an interval, usually brief, during which the problems of the past become secondary to the bright prospects of the future. And the person I nominate today is the symbol of that new optimism.

"With great pride, and at the direction of the eight-one assembled and united Democrats of this House, I hereby place in nomination, for the Office of Speaker, the name of Daniel T. Blue, Jr., of Wake County.

"First, and importantly, Daniel T. Blue, Jr. is a North Carolinian. He strives to be, rather than to seem. He is a product of a strong Robeson County family, many members of which are here today. He is a product of Oak Ridge High School; and North Carolina Central University, (perhaps our first math major as Speaker), and will bring to the speakership an appreciation of the value of public education and of higher education in North Carolina. And he is a product of the Duke Law School, where he received his professional training. He knows, as it was put by one of the ancient Greeks, that education is 'An ornament in prosperity and a refuge in adversity'.

"He is a product of this House of Representatives, which has served as the crucible for his public life. He has chaired committees; he has led the charge; he has fought and won; and on occasion, he has fought alone and lost. And he has earned the respect and affection of all.

"He is truly capable of being, as Kipling put it... 'A brother to a prince or a fellow to a beggar'.

"Daniel T. Blue, Jr. is a person of principle. He is aware of the Chinese proverb that 'He who sacrifices his conscience to ambition burns a picture to obtain ashes'.

"Daniel T. Blue, Jr. is a person of tact and civility. He knows that good will, like a good name, is gotten by many actions and lost by one.

"Daniel T. Blue, Jr. is a person who knows the importance of history. He is aware that many of our ancestors arrived on these shores less than 200 years ago; that 126 years ago in April, Sherman's troops marched into and occupied Raleigh, and our economy and infrastructure stood totally demolished; that less than one hundred years ago, Charles B. Aycock and the General Assembly of this state began the century of educational progress that continues unabated until this moment.

"He is aware that in that brief time, many courageous and committed men and women, of all races, have built, out of the small farms and small towns of our state, a strong economy, a great university system, a productive community college system, a system of free public education, and a network of roadways.

"Representative Blue's generation has watched, and been influenced by – not only foreign war, and not only tragic assassinations, but also those who led us out of war, out of violence, out of segregation, out of disease, and out of ignorance. These advances did not happen without sacrifice and risktaking, and they did not happen without leadership.

"Daniel T. Blue, Jr. is a leader. A proverb tells us that where there is no vision, the people perish. A wise judge used to retort to me, when I was a fiery young prosecutor, 'Mr. Hackney, you'll be surprised how little difference my decision will make a hundred years from now'.

"The same is not true of our decisions this session. Daniel T. Blue, Jr. will lead us to build our universities, not allow them to atrophy. He will lead us to fund drug abuse and dropout prevention programs in our public schools, not neglect them.

"He will lead us to invest in technology and workforce training in our community colleges, not just allow us to slide into a service economy.

"In short, Daniel T. Blue, Jr. will lead us to make a difference, not to indifference. He can be the wind beneath our wings. And what a difference he can make — we can make — a hundred years from now.

"So as we organize this 1991 North Carolina House of Representatives, let us, under the leadership of Daniel T. Blue, Jr., meet the challenge laid down long ago by Abraham Lincoln:

'With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we are in.'

The nomination is seconded by Representative Easterling.

"Madam Chair, Members of the North Carolina House, Guests and Friends:

"I rise with great pleasure to second the nomination of Representative Dan Blue as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

"He is eminently and uniquely qualified to lead us in the difficult and challenging days of the 1991-92 sessions of the General Assembly.

"Difficult, because of the constant and persistent worsening economic situation and the enormous and expanding needs of the state and its people — in all areas, geographic and social.

"Challenging, because of the immense opportunity for vision and innovation in arriving at solutions.

"I shall not dwell on his education and experience, his achievements and honors, of which Representative Hackney has so eloquently spoken.

"Representative Blue is without question a LEADER.

"It is a given that he has the knowledge and ability to be Speaker of the House, but has he the temperament and personality to do the job effectively? I think he has, and I will tell you why.

"I made a list of those qualities of character that are the intangible elements of leadership.

"I went to the Bible – to Shakespeare – to Goethe – to Homer – to modern day writers and philosophers for insight.

"He has enthusiasm, which is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it.

"He is intelligent: the test of a first-rate intelligence is the ability to hold two opposed ideas in the mind at the same time, and still retain the ability to function.

"Wisdom is one of the most illusive of qualities. It is amazing how ancient and modern writers agree on its practical meaning:

'Wisdom is to read right the present, and to march with the occasion. (Homer)

'Wisdom is to know what to do next. (Hoover)

'Wisdom is to know what to overlook. (William Jones)

'Wisdom consists of knowing what to do next, and doing it.' (David Jordan)

"Dan Blue meets these qualifications.

"Dignity and Honor:

'Where is there dignity unless there is also honesty? (Cicero).

'Confidence in another's honesty is no light testimony to one's own integrity. (Montaigne)

'Our own hearts, and not other men's opinions forms true honor.' (Coleridge)

"Dan has an innate dignity that does not depend on pomp and circumstance, although ceremony has its proper place. His trust in you and me attests to his own honor.

"Representative Blue has a sense of humor.

'Humor is one of the democratic experiences of mankind. Whatever may be our differences — age, education, experience, religion, politics — the moment we laugh together in appreciating a joke, we are, for that golden moment, united and equal.' (Marius Risley)

"Dan's sense of humor will stand him in good stead as Speaker of the House.

"Courtesy — Patience — Good Manners:

"These qualities are so interwoven that to have one implies a grasp of the others.

'Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy.' (Emerson)

"Dan has time.

'Keep strong, if possible. In any case, keep cool. Have unlimited patience.' (B.H.L. Hart)

"Unfailing good manners is one of Dan's strong points. No matter how he disagrees with one, he has respect for another's opinion and point of view.

"Representative Blue has a knowledge of parliamentary procedure and a sense of organization and structure that will operate to expedite the business of the House: all the time that's necessary — no time for grandstanding and wasting of resources.

"And finally,

"Dan Blue has integrity and a sense of stewardship.

'This above all to thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man.' (Shakespeare)

"What he is in private is what we see in the light of day.

"Dan Blue knows that: The past is our heritage; The present is our responsibility; The future is our challenge.

"I believe he is the man for the hour.

"I proudly second the nomination of Dan Blue for Speaker of the House.

"Thank you."

The nomination is seconded by Representative Hardaway.

"Madam Clerk, Members of the House, Members of Representative Blue's Family and Visiting Guests:

"It gives me great pleasure to stand before you today to second the nomination of my friend and colleague, Representative Daniel T. Blue, Jr. as Speaker of the 1991 Session of the North Carolina General Assembly.

"I am indeed honored to be allowed this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to participate in the making of history. Not only for our great state, but also for our nation. Also, I am extremely proud to second the nomination of a person who is eminently qualified to assume the position of Speaker of the House. A position which will require him to be a leader, not only for this Great Body, but also for the people of North Carolina.

"We face demanding and unsure times. In many ways, not unlike Columbus when he set out to discover a new world, or Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. when he set out to discover the truth and promises embodied in our Constitution and Bill of Rights for all citizens.

"Surely Dan, not unlike those two men of courage, you are filled with hope and faith that your leadership will be up to the task; that you will reach your goals as they did. Just as these men faced rough and uncertain times, we as members of this great body will face similiar challenges in the days ahead. But it is in moments of frustration and crisis that we must call upon our courage, our integrity, our vision and our faith in God.

"As it is written in the book of Deuteronomy... 'Be of a good courage; fear not; nor be afraid, for it is God that goes with us; He will not fail us, nor forsake us'.

"Dan, knowing you as I do, I am confident that in moments of uncertainty and conflicting interests, you will have the courage to guide us in fullfilling our mission, that of ensuring the continued welfare of our state and its people.

"In this time of global conflict, we look to national leadership. In this time of dwindling state resources, we must look to state and local leadership. And, because leadership means sometimes making mistakes, let us remember that the galleries will be full of critics. They fight no fights. They make no mistakes because they make no attempts. In every arena are the doers, and in this arena, we will be the doers. We will make mistakes and we will attempt many things. With God's help and your leadership we will find creative solutions to difficult problems.

"Ladies and gentlemen, my fellow colleagues, again, let me say that it gives me great pleasure to second the nomination of Daniel T. Blue, Jr. as our next Speaker of the North Carolina House. Thank you."

The nomination is seconded by Representative Ed Bowen.

"I SECOND THE NOMINATION of Dan Blue to be Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives. Dan Blue is North Carolina. He knows our Coast from Corolla to Calabash. He knows inland North Carolina from the tobacco fields of Robeson County through industrial Piedmont. No person holds a larger and more compassionate umbrella over our entire population that is rapidly approaching the seven million mark.

"TRUE, THIS SESSION of the General Assembly is headed into some stormy seas in areas of budgeting, redistricting, education, and environment, to name a few. However, under the leadership of Governor Martin, Speaker Blue, President Pro Tem of the Senate, Henson Barnes, and with the cooperation of Lieutenant Governor Gardner, our ship State can be piloted into more placid waters.

"THERE IS ONE QUESTION asked from many quarters. Why Dan Blue? It's Dan Blue time, and in North Carolina it's time for Dan Blue. In this great nation of ours anyone that aspires for public office says that when elected, qualification will be the only criteria used in the selection process. All of us say it, many believe it, but the North Carolina House of Representatives does it.

"I KNOW THAT THIS is a time for a long and eloquent speech, but any speech that I make is certainly long enough and I am sure that it is audible and visible to everyone here that I am very short on eloquence.

"THEREFORE, anymore time that I use will prolong a happening that I have been looking forward to for many months. So, I say, let's get on with it.

"BELONGING TO AN OLDER generation and coming from rural eastern North Carolina, I am extremely grateful for the opportunity to second the nomination to this important position — a black man named Blue, and in doing so, it makes me the happiest redneck in North Carolina.

"Thank you."

There being no further nominations, the Principal Clerk declares the nominations closed and requests that the roll of the House be called.

The following members vote for Representative Blue: Representatives Albertson, Anderson, Barnes, Barnhill, Beall, Beard, Black, Blue, Bowen, Bowman, Brawley, Chapin, Church, Colton, Cooper, J. W. The Speaker, escorted to the Chair by Representatives Pete Cunningham, Ray Fletcher, Aaron Fussell, Karen Gottovi, Nick Jeralds, and Peggy Stamey, takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by Justice Henry Frye, North Carolina Supreme Court.

"I, DANIEL T. BLUE, JR., do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and,

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States; to the best of my knowledge and ability; and,

"I do solemnly swear that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of Speaker of the 1991 House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to the best of my skill and ability, according to laws; so help me, God."

The Speaker, Mr. Blue, approaches the dias and makes the following remarks:

"It is a great honor and historic distinction that you have bestowed on me today. I accept the office of Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives with a deep sense of humility and an even deeper commitment to lead and guide this House intelligently and fairly so that all citizens will be equally heard and represented.

"As representatives of over six and a half million people of this state, we represent collectively the struggle and the success, the hope and the despair, the growth and the stagnation, the future and the past that is North Carolina. We are North Carolina.

"We begin a new session of the North Carolina House of Representatives with an obligation to tradition and an opportunity for the new.

"As I become the Speaker of the House, I know that I follow the tradition of exceptional leaders who set extraordinarily high standards for all who come after them.

"It is a tradition of guiding the House membership toward fulfilling that great public purpose through affirmative government. It is a tradition of deliberation and consensus.

"It is a tradition of providing strong leadership in times of certainty and in times of uncertainty.

"I feel very fortunate to have the benefit of two former speakers as sitting members of this House. They have provided unqualified support and great help to me as we prepared to begin this session.

"The speakerships of these two men underscore the tradition of visionary leadership in this House. Their experience and insights are invaluable. For their time and talent which they have so unselfishly given to this House and for their great dedication to helping the people of this state, I thank them. And I know the people of North Carolina thank them. Ladies and gentlemen, please join me in expressing our deep appreciation to two North Carolinians whose determination and wisdom have improved our state: Liston Ramsey and Joe Mavretic.

"Members of the House have a tradition of being firmly united partners in the democratic process in working toward our common public mission. And although times and circumstances change and challenge us, our mission has always remained fixed and inviolate. Our priority of commonwealth over individual wealth has allowed this state to flourish and assume leadership in the South.

"Today we celebrate both renewal and change – an opportunity for the new. It is a change of leadership with a new generation of ideas and goals, but it is a renewal of our uncompromising commitment to provide opportunities – economic, educational, political, and cultural – and fair treatment to all the citizens of this state. It is a renewal of an American heritage to which we are all heirs, and it is part of the culture we have in common with each other.

"This commitment is the reason we are all here; it is not the personal political gain or the personal fame or fortune which brings men and women to public service. Rather it is the personal opportunity to convert imagination and indignation into substantive public policies.

"Today that opportunity for the new is the assumption of a major challenge. We 120 members of North Carolina House of Representatives start a session in a time of world turmoil, national economic slowdown, a severe state budget crisis, and general uncertainty about our tomorrows. To meet those challenges and resolve the problems before us, I ask you today to lay aside confrontive partianship and political rhetoric and to join me in seeking constructive cooperative solutions.

"Today we accept that demanding challenge, for this session will be one of vital decisions. We will be asked to be both idealistic and pragmatic. We will be asked to correct social and economic inequality at the same time that we will be asked to preserve rights, privileges, and the status quo. We will be asked to intensify our efforts to provide our children with adequate education and training, while at the same time we will be asked to decrease those efforts. We will be asked to protect our fragile environmental resources at the same time that we will be asked to approve unrestrained infringement on those resources. The past has shown that we can battle over these issues; the future must show that we have the will to resolve them.

"The tradition of the North Carolina House of Representatives has been one of constant determination and the unwavering purpose to ensure a bright future for our state and our citizens – one where we respond to adversities and crises with courage and innovative solutions.

"The 1931 and 1933 sessions of the General Assembly took place during the depths of the great Depression. The members of our legislature met those adversities and crises by reordering priorities. They changed the state tax structure. They established statewide funding for our public schools. They assumed responsibility for local road and highway maintenance. They created a consolidated university system.

"It is this forward thinking philosophy which characterizes the spirit of the men and women who served in the legislature before us. They took bold steps to ensure that this state would be able to meet the demands of an ever changing world. They dared to take risks for the future of this state. It is this proud legacy which propelled North Carolina into a leadership position in the South and has kept it there.

"The 1991 session will direct us to define our common interests and goals. It will test our abilities to resolve the issues which should unite us rather than labor those which divide us. It will test our personal determination and fortitude. it will test our capacity to re-examine and reappraise what goes into public policy. We must define where we want to be in 2002, not let events limit our sights to 1992.

"As I assume the responsibility of the speakership, I ask for your help! I will look to you to provide inventiveness, opinions, and solutions to the many issues we will face.

"We must ensure that education and potential are developed. While some fear that we must move to equalize school funding across this state lest we face a lawsuit, I fear that we must equalize school funding across this state lest we face the hundred of thousands of young people who, simply because of geography, will be denied the opportunity to develop into what God gave them the potential to be. Additionally we must provide transportation networks to move people in and through our urban areas while continuing our efforts in rural areas. We must invigorate our rural economy through training and economic expansion. We must redistrict our state fairly. We must protect our environment. And in achieving these goals, we must try to expand opportunities and results, not government.

"These challenges are not mine alone; they are not yours alone. They are ours together.

"So as we begin the deliberative process of this session, know that the future of North Carolina is being written not only by those who are affluent and have had exceptional privileges and opportunities but also by those who continue to have a marginal level of existence. Those who are educationally and economically underprivileged, and those who are spiritually discouraged. If that future is to be successful, then we must ensure broad and equal opportunities for all of our people.

"As John F. Kennedy stated in addressing the Massachusetts State Legislature in 1961: 'And when at some future date the high court of history sits in judgment on each of us, recording whether in our brief span of service we fulfilled our responsibilities to the state, our success or failure,.....will be measured by the answers to four questions: First, were we truly (representatives) of courage...Second, were we truly (representatives) of judgment...Third, were we truly (representatives) of integrity...Finally, were we truly (representatives) of dedication?'

"Those questions are more than rhetorical. They apply to all of us. And I hope that we will meet our responsibilities with the courage, good judgment, integrity, and dedication to move our state forward.

"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven. So my friends, this is the time and season for North Carolina to look forward in its purposes, not backwards.

"With an obligation to our tradition and an opportunity for the new, I assure you that the House will be governed in an open and fair manner. With great humility but firm resolve, I accept the challenge, the responsibility, and the office of Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives and pray that God blesses all of us in our endeavors."

The Speaker assumes the duties of the Chair.

On motion of Representative Wicker, the courtesies of the floor are extended to the following members of Speaker Blue's family:

SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The Speaker announces that nominations are in order for Speaker Pro Tempore.

The Chair recognizes Representative Doris Huffman who places the name of Representative Theresa Esposito as the Republican nominee for Speaker Pro Tempore.

"Mr. Speaker, Distinguished Visitors and Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"Nestled in the heart of the progressive city of Winston-Salem lies the old town of Salem.

"Salem was founded in 1766 by devout people who believed that the work of their hands, a strong faith, a sense of order, a love of education, an abhorrence of violence, and a deep concern for others, were values to be desired; indeed, necessary for a full and productive life.

"Representative Theresa Esposito is a person who exemplifies these values.

"It is indicative of her concern and abiding love for children that she serves on the National Commission on Children. (An appointment, by the way, that should be a source of pride for all North Carolinians.)

"I consider it a high honor to place her name in nomination for election to the office of Speaker Pro Tempore.

"The Speaker Pro Tempore must be a person held in high esteem by her colleagues, one who is worthy of trust, and perhaps most important of all, one who displays leadership.

"I believe few of us would deny that this session, newly convened, will be a challenging one. It will require the best in each of us to meet the needs of children in the classroom, to improve and expand our prison system, to provide for the needs of the disadvantaged, the disabled, and the aging, to secure new economic opportunities for our citizens, to protect the God-given resources of this good land, — and to do so without additional hardship on the taxpayers.

"This can only be accomplished with the full participation of every member without regard for geographic location, special interest, or political party.

"I am confident that Theresa Esposito if elected Speaker Pro Tempore, possesses the wisdom and skill to work with the speaker and with each member of the North Carolina House to meet this challenge."

The Chair is notified that no seconds are requested.

The Chair recognizes Representative Judy Hunt who places the name of Representative Marie W. Colton as the Democratic nominee for Speaker Pro Tempore.

"I am honored to nominate Marie Watters Colton for the office of Speaker Pro Tempore in the 1991 House of Representatives.

"The office of Speaker Pro Tem is one that I have observed closely during certain years. I know how important it is for the Speaker and all members to be able to communicate easily with this person. Marie Colton has a gracious style and friendly manner which will serve all the new members and returning members well.

"Marie Colton has spent many years helping other people. For the last 12 years she has served others by serving in the N. C. House of Representatives. This type of service is not new or unusual for Marie because five of her great grandfathers have also served in the General Assembly.

"Born in Mecklenburg County and a graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill, Marie is married to Henry E. Colton, and they live in Asheville. They are the parents of four children: Elizabeth, Marie, Sarah and Walter and the grandparents of 7.

"Marie is a member of Business & Professional Women, American Association of University Women and numerous other organizations and boards.

"The Sierra Club honored her as Legislator of the Year in 1989. Also, she received the Legislator of the Year award from the NC Wildlife Federation in 1989. And the NC Association of Social Services voted her Legislator of the Year in 1989. These three distinctive groups have recognized the outstanding work of Marie Colton.

"She has become known in the House of Representatives and much of N. C. for her diligent work on behalf of children and her efforts to see that we all are better stewards of the earth's resources. What could be of more substance than work with our children who are our future and preservation of our environment without which we have no future. All of this I believe proves that Marie Colton is truly a woman of substance.

"Thank you for your support of Marie Colton as Speaker Pro Tem."

The nomination is seconded by Representative Ethridge.

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House and Special Guests:

"It is indeed my high honor and privilege to second the nomination of Representative Marie Colton as the first woman to serve as Speaker Pro Tem of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

"Today – by the election of our Speaker and Speaker Pro Tem we are establishing North Carolina as a leader in our nation in recognizing the worth of every individual.

"This is truly a great day in our history as we recognize that there is no limit on what you can achieve no matter what your race or sex happens to be.

"Today – we could not pick a more deserving person for Speaker Pro Tem than our good friend and colleague Representative Marie Colton.

"Representative Colton has served the people of her district and this state well for the past 12 years.

"Her record of service will show that she has been a strong supporter of those programs that reach out to help 'the least of these' – especially early intervention for our at-risk children.

"She has been recognized for her work in behalf of consumer protection and has been a leader in supporting legislation that helps us protect our fragile environment.

"Representative Colton has the ability, concern and desire to help lead us in meeting the tremendous challenges that we will face this session.

"Please join me in electing Representative Marie Colton as our next Speaker Pro Tem.

"Thank you."

There being no further nominations, the Speaker declares the nominations closed and requests that the roll of the House be called.

Hunter, Hurley, James, Jarrell, Jeffus, Jeralds, Jones, Jordan, Kahl, Kennedy, Kerr, Lilley, Lineberry, Luebke, Lutz, McAllister, McLaughlin, McLawhorn, Mavretic, Mercer, Michaux, Nesbitt, Nye, Oldham, Payne, Ramsey, Redwine, Rogers, Smith, Stamey, Stewart, Thompson, Wainwright, Warner, Wicker, Wilmoth, Withrow, and Woodard - 79.

Representative Colton having received a majority vote is declared Speaker Pro Tempore.

The Speaker Pro Tempore, escorted to the dias by Representatives Narvel J. Crawford, Gordon Greenwood, Martin L. Nesbitt, and Bertha Holt, takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by Judge Sarah Parker, North Carolina Court of Appeals.

"I, MARIE W. COLTON, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and,

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States; to the best of my knowledge and ability; and,

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully discharge my duties as Speaker Pro Tempore of the 1991 House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to the best of my skill and ability; so help me, God."

The Speaker Pro Tempore, Representative Colton, makes the following remarks:

"As I stand here in the company of my colleagues and supported by family and friends, I confess this is a very emotional experience for me. I will always cherish the honor of being elected Speaker Pro Tem for this session of the House of Representatives. It is a double privilege that I – as the first woman to be elected Speaker Pro Tem – follow in the tradition of another Western legislator. Seventy years ago LILLIAN EXUM CLEMENT, ALSO FROM ASHEVILLE, became the first female elected to this august body. The New York Times reported: 'Western North Carolina Takes the Lead, Miss Clement First Woman Legislator in the South.' Thanks to Miss Clement we have voting booths at the polls, insuring a secret ballot.

"You all realize we face what are probably the most difficult problems for State Government that we have faced in recent memory. I think of the poetic words of Robert Frost 'We have promises to keep, and miles to go before we sleep.'

"It has long been the tradition in North Carolina to find the solutions to difficult problems. The seriousness of the issues which will come before us this session demands that we put aside political concerns and dedicate ourselves unselfishly to the task we have been given. North Carolinians have always been a creative people; we must use our creativity now!

"Of course I will support the Speaker and his program. I expect to give Dan Blue my ideas and concerns. I know he would like for every member of the House to do likewise. I know that all of you have already given serious thought to what we should do in this session. I will mention a few of my major concerns.

"Everyone in North Carolina is aware of the serious shortfall in state revenues. We must keep the Ship of State afloat. My question is: should we not first strive in every way to tighten the state's belt? Every business and every family in North Carolina is having to do so. And should we not look at our tax laws and close every gap and loophole before we look for additional sources of revenue?

"Protecting the environment is a statewide problem. It is the responsibility of the state to lead by example; to encourage good stewardship; to reward innovation and to discourage wastefulness and the pillaging of our resources. Honing the regulatory agencies is more effective than padding them. Reduction, recycling and resourcefulness should be our bywords.

"Are we spending our educational dollars wisely? Should the consolidation of school units be mandated within a reasonable time frame? How quickly can we make early intervention and appropriate preschool education available – thereby significantly enhancing our already heroic efforts to improve public education? How can we maximize federal, state and local monies in these Spartan times?

"Inadequate prison space is one factor responsible for the breakdown of the criminal court system. We have begun and expanded the use of alternatives to incarceration. Are there not still other alternatives to the construction of traditional expensive prisons? Have we sufficiently developed treatment facilities and training camps where rehabilitation and redirection are of greater concern than escape proof prisons? And can't we make better use of idle prison population as a workforce for the improvement of our beautiful state forests and parks?

"Finally, can't we foster the use of trained volunteers in our schools and parks and juvenile justice programs, and in health care and other such places? Volunteers are waiting in every community across the state. Such services as volunteer fire departments and rescue squads are examples. This could save the state enormous expense, and more importantly, give our people the opportunity to respond to the great challenge of President Kennedy to 'ask what you can do for your country'.

"I have faith in the courage and collective wisdom of this House. Together we will find the right answers.

"I pledge my earnest endeavor to be worthy of the honor of the office of Speaker Pro Tem."

THE RECEIVING OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS AND PAPERS ADDRESSED TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OR TO THE HOUSE

Representative Lineberry is recognized and presents a Proclamation recognizing the founding of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

On motion of Representative Lineberry, the Proclamation is spread upon the Journal as follows:

A PROCLAMATION RECOGNIZING THE FOUNDING OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT GREENSBORO

Whereas, the people of North Carolina are deeply indebted to the North Carolina General Assembly of 1891 and other leaders of just over a century ago whose vision created on February 18, 1891, the State Normal and Industrial School, now The University of North Carolina at Greensboro; and

Whereas, special honor is accorded the memory of Charles Duncan McIver for his unrelenting work as an advocate to establish the State Normal and Industrial School; and

Whereas, in the efforts to establish the State Normal and Industrial School, the people of North Carolina also are indebted to such persons as: Edwin A. Alderman, who served with Charles Duncan McIver in conducting County Teacher Institutes across the state in 1889-91; Major Sidney M. Finger, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Governor Daniel G. Fowle; Dr. J. L. M. Curry, Executive Secretary of the Peabody Fund; educators J. Y. Joyner, M. C. S. Noble, E. P. Moses, and others; and

Whereas, efforts to establish the State Normal and Industrial School to provide higher education for women and to help meet the state's need for teachers drew strong support from such organizations as the

North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance, and the King's Daughters; and

Whereas, in creating the State Normal and Industrial School on February 18, 1891, the General Assembly appropriated $10,000 for the first year and elected a Board of Directors; and

Whereas, in June of 1891, the Board of Directors accepted the City of Greensboro's generous bid of $30,000 plus a campus site and made plans to locate the new institution in Greensboro; and

Whereas, the State Normal and Industrial School, led by President Charles Duncan McIver, opened its doors to 198 students on October 5, 1892; and

Whereas, from that beginning, the School grew into The University of North Carolina at Greensboro, an institution of academic excellence with an enrollment today of nearly 12,000 students; which offers undergraduate study in 100 areas, master's degree in 68 fields, and 14 doctoral degrees; whose faculty members make major contributions to the state and nation through their teaching, research, and public service; which has awarded more than 60,000 degrees; which has over 50,000 living alumni; and

Whereas, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, its alumni around the world, and its friends and supporters near and far, are looking forward to celebrating a century of splendid, dedicated service by the University to the advancement of knowledge, the welfare and best interests of the citizens of this state and of people elsewhere; and toward the economic progress of North Carolina;

Now, therefore, be it proclaimed by the House of Representatives of North Carolina:

Section 1. The North Carolina House of Representatives recognizes and honors the founders of The University of North Carolina at Greensboro for their vision, commends the University for its contributions to North Carolina and its people, extends congratulations on the occasion of the institution's upcoming Centennial celebration, and eagerly anticipates a second century of service by the University on behalf of the people of North Carolina and the nation.

Sec. 2. The Speaker of the House shall send a certified copy of this Proclamation to William E. Moran, the ninth chief executive officer of The University of North Carolina at Greensboro and the sixth to hold the title as its Chancellor.

S/Daniel T. Blue, Speaker

SPEAKER BLUE PRESIDING.

Representative Miller requests under Rule 36.1 a fiscal note to the bill.

Responding to inquiry by Representative Mavretic, the Speaker states that under Rule 36.1(b) there would be a two-day delay of further action on the bill or an alternative would be to re-refer the bill to the Committee on Appropriations for analysis. When a fiscal note is requested it does obstruct any action on the bill until that note is attached to the bill.

Representative Mavretic asks if the fiscal note could not be requested before final action is taken on the bill.

The Speaker rules that the fiscal note, having been requested under Rule 36.1(d), should be attached before passage on second reading.

Representative Rhyme rises on a point of parliamentary inquiry and in answer to his questions, the Speaker states that when the bill is back on the Calendar in two days, action will continue from the point of today's action. The Speaker also rules that under Rule 14 a motion would not be in order to re-refer the bill until additional action had been taken on the bill. The Speaker also states that if a fiscal note has not been attached by Friday, then a motion would be in order to postpone action until a day certain.

The Speaker rules that in order for the bill to be considered on its second reading, a fiscal note needs to be attached.

Representative Balmer moves that Rule 36.1 be suspended in order for the bill to have its second reading.

Representative Jack Hunt moves, seconded by Representative Bowen, subject to the reading of notices and announcements, the House do adjourn. This motion carries by electronic vote (66-41).

MEMORIALIZING SENATOR ROBERT S. SWAIN

Representative Payne requests that any remarks memorializing Senator Swain and submitted in writing to the Principal Clerk be included in the Journal.

The following is received by the Principal Clerk.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE JULIA HOWARD
MEMORIAL FOR SENATOR BOB SWAIN

"Knowing Senator Swain was a privilege and an education. When as, a freshman member of this body, I mentioned the fact that my first bill had been sent to Senator Swain's Judicial Committee. The response was always 'Oh God, Swain' and it took me awhile to figure out who that was since there was nobody with a first-name like 'Oh God' listed on the roster.

"Senator Swain was a man of his word. When he promised to give my bill a fair hearing before he killed 'the damn thing', he did just that.

"But he didn't always get his way. As hard as he tried to appear gruff and contrary, he couldn't hide the warm heart, true humility, and deep concern which lay at the core of his character and shaped his perspective. He was of rare intelligence and despite his efforts to play it down, we learned to recognize it and respect him well.

"Bob Swain may, as they say, have marched to a different drummer, and I can't deny that sometimes – if he didn't like the beat – he would just break the drum sticks. But this was to his credit, not otherwise. He was a man of honor and principle, who stood up for what he believed.

"This resolution is good, and it is appropriate. The Senator would appreciate it.

"Once he told me, in that challenging way of his — which was really his way to get you to think — that he knew not one of the members who could truthfully say anything good about him — especially none of the 'damn women' — and of course I agreed. I knew he might be thinking about a memorial resolution, so I told him not to worry because only the good die young, and since he would outlive us all, he didn't need to worry about our honesty in any such resolution.

"Bob Swain was a strong man with a powerful will and a determination to serve the people of this state, which he did honorable and well. Whether we agreed with him or not, we, as members of this legislative body which he loved so well, respected him and can take this opportunity to show it.

"As we walk these halls, many of us may share fond memories of Bob Swain, a self-assured man in a green coat, smoking a Salem, and reminding us that he means business with that famous two-finger gesture he used to make his point.

"I commend this resolution to you in memory of my friend Robert S. Swain -- a man who was a friend to all old dogs, to all men, to me and whether he would admit it or not, to what he called the 'damn women' as well. I appreciate the privilege of calling Bob Swain a friend."

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE NARVEL JIM CRAWFORD
MEMORIAL FOR SENATOR BOB SWAIN

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies, and Gentlemen,

"I would be remiss to duty to loyalty and to friendship if I did not rise for a brief moment to pay tribute to a singular mountain man.

"For Bob Swain encompassed a multitude of the ingredients of what we like to think of as the best in the human condition. He brought a fresh and unique perspective on issues due to his experience as a strong prosecutor and a dynamic defense attorney.

"And, oh! how he loved the challenge of championing the often unpopular cause for he took as his charge and vocation, the unending need to defend the weak, the unloved, and the defenseless.

"We have seen his creative hand at work in everything from introducing the indomitable and indigenous plot hound, as our state dog, to his untiring interest in and dedication to prison reformation. And he never lost sight of the biblical injunction that admonishes us to remember and to care for even the prisoners and captives.

"Bob Swain had a myriad of interests and loves, and none more intensely than this General Assembly. This was his home away from home, and we were his extended family. Many of us in this Chamber remember vividly that wonderful afternoon last year given in his honor at Treybern in Durham when we toasted and roasted him. He cherished that video, kept it close at hand, and showed it again and again to his friends and visitors and always with a renewed pride and pleasure and childlike joy.

"During his tenacious fight for life, the legislative process was his therapy and medicine; and if there could have been a cure, it would have been that as well. You could see it in the spring of his gait, the laughter in his eyes, and the excitation in his voice.

"He took great pains to hide his learning and erudition from us. But we are eternally grateful that he could never hide the real Bob Swain from us – the man who was at once creative and cantankerous, pugnacious and playful.

"In searching and struggling for some words which would be a proper epitaph, I suddenly realized that they had already been written. Actually, they were written by a wonderful wordsmith and a son of old England long ago and far away. But they convey to me beauty, power, and succinctness and they go something like this:

'If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
or walk with kings--nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much,
If you can fill the unforgiving minute with sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it,
and--which is more--you'll be a man, my son!'

"Bob Swain was indeed a man...the likes of which will not soon pass our way again."

(See Appendix for other remarks)
